In this article, it is stated that the state's innovative policy of ensuring youth employment in Uzbekistan has shown its positive results in social life over the years.

Keywords: youth, law, state, employment, entrepreneurship.

Introduction

In connection with the transition to the market economy, the development of various forms of ownership was constitutionally justified. For example, Chapter XII of the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan is entitled "Economic Foundations of Society".

In it, property in various forms forms the basis of the economy of Uzbekistan aimed at increasing the welfare of citizens. The state creates conditions for the development of market relations and fair competition, guarantees the freedom of economic activity, entrepreneurship and labor, taking into account the priority of consumer rights [1] , - it is said. This article protects young people's right to legal use of all forms of property. It opens opportunities for economic activity to young people, guarantees the right to conduct all forms of entrepreneurship, free labor, use of private property, and all forms of property are protected by law. Also, in the article, the state guarantees the protection of all consumer rights and implements an innovative policy to meet their needs.

Uzbekistan is a country with a young population. According to estimates, 64.0 percent of the total population of the republic corresponds to the share of the population under the age of 30, and young people aged 16-29 make up 34.8 percent of the labor resources [2] .

Main Part

To take all measures to ensure the employment of the population, especially young people, first of all, to ensure the principle of rule of law in the market economy in every field, to create and improve its legal framework, to support entrepreneurship, to establish new, modern production zones, to create vacancies, implemented through social protection of young people.

Indeed, Uzbekistan is a country with a rapidly growing population. As a result, the number of working- age population also increased. For example, by the end of 2017, the number of people of working age was 18,672.5 thousand (a 101% increase compared to 2016). On January 1, 2017, the number of employed people was 13,520,300, and the growth rate was 101.7 percent compared to 2016. The number of jobs created in 2017 amounted to 336,100 jobs, of which 246,100 were permanent jobs, including 101,600 in industrial sectors and 66,200 in the service sector as part of the implementation of targeted development programs. , in agriculture - 51.6 thousand, restoration of non-working enterprises, leasing or privatization of vacant state facilities - 26.8 thousand, in the field of individual entrepreneurship - 90.0 thousand [3] .

According to the forecast parameters of the balance of demand and supply in the labor market, the demand for jobs in 2018 was 1,362,500 people [3] . The number of young people, graduates of higher education institutions, academic lyceums and vocational colleges, who entered the labor market for the first time, was 484,500 people [3] . The number of unemployed people in need of employment is 851,900, of which 220,400 are laid off as a result of structural changes in the economy. At the same time, the number of persons in need of work belonging to the categories of the population in need of social protection amounted to about 26,1 thousand people [3] . Quotas of jobs for vulnerable population groups 48,600, vocational retraining of the unemployed 25,800, and employment of citizens abroad 208,400, including organized sending 52,000, as well as personal assistants and self-employment on farms reached 155,800 people [3] .

In order to ensure the well-being of the population in all regions of the republic, the program "Every family is an entrepreneur" was developed, because our people have long-standing practical experience in cultivating the land, growing products,
